DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-12 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of copending Application No. 10/153,311. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the examined claims are either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claims. Here claims 1-12 are generic to all that is recited in claims of copending Application No. 10/153,311. That is, claims of copending Application No. 10/153,311 fall entirely within the scope of claims 1-12, or in other words, claims 1-12 are anticipated by claims of copending Application No. 10/153,311. Specifically, the compositions of claims 1-5, the method of producing the said composition of claims 6-9 and the kit comprising a composition and a device for its delivery as recited in claims 10-12 are obvious over the compositions and method of producing the compositions as claimed in the copending Application No.

Art Unit: 1616

10/153,311. The rate of particle formation of the instant claims are disclosed in the specification of the reference claims.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 1-5 and 10-12 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of copending Application No. 10/749,536. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the examined claims are either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claims. Here claims 1-5 and 10-12 are generic to all that is recited in claims of copending Application No. 10/749,536. That is, claims of copending Application No. 10/749,536 fall entirely within the scope of claims 1-5 and 10-12, or in other words, claims 1-5 and 10-12 are anticipated by claims of copending Application No. 10/749,536. Specifically, the compositions of claims 1-5 and the kit comprising a coating of diphenhydramine and a device for dispensing it recited in claims 10-12 of the instant application are obvious over the kit comprising a coating of an antihistamine drug and a device for dispensing it as recited in claims 23, 25 and 31 of the copending application. This is so because diphenhydramine is an antihistamine.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
